

Know Your Options

Railroads will charge you an excessive rate to ship your high value lading. They may damage or destroy it and reimburse you a limited amount for your loss. Consult with me and learn your options.

Terry Sheldon

I've had the best training anyone could have to help rail customers....to help YOU.

My railroad career began in 1971 on the Waterloo RR: a small carrier utilizing 1800's technology. Working for a small carrier required knowing its whole operation. As mergers swept through the industry I progressed to larger carriers where specialization was required. While I handled claims on these other carriers, my last 15 years were spent handling thousands of claims with heavy emphasis on high-value claims. I was the Union Pacific Manager working with our Law Department and our outside attorneys on over 240 lading damage suits.
